

Software Freedom Day 2009
Indian Linux Users Group – Chennai
<http://www.ilugc.in/>

ILUGC celebrates Software Freedom Day on Sat Sept 19th 2009!

ILUGC cordially invite you to attend the celebration of Software Freedom Day 2009 on Sat Sept 19th 9:30AM to 5PM, at Birla Planetarium, Kotturpuram, Chennai. Event is open to all and entry is free!

Anyone interested to know about Free and Open Source Software (FOSS) can attend this event. In this event, ILUGC members and students from various colleges, will demonstrate FOSS softwares, present tutorials (in Tamil and English) to cover the common tools (like Office, Internet, Multimedia, Games, Programming Tools), and live session to show "How to install Linux in your computer?".

About Software Freedom Day (SFD):

SFD is a global, grassroots effort to educate the public about the benefits and availability of Free and Open Source Software. The non-profit organisation Software Freedom International coordinates SFD at a global level. Volunteer teams, like ILUGC, throughout the world organise local SFD events around the 3rd Saturday in September.

About Indian Linux Users Group – Chennai:

Indian Linux Users Group – Chennai chapter is a heterogeneous group of FOSS users from the South Indian city of Chennai, formed in the year 1997, to support of Software Freedom in general and GNU/Linux in particular. Membership in ILUGC is open to anyone interested in FOSS regardless of the level of their computer experience. We have monthly meetings, mailing lists and website.

Welcome to SFD 2009

<http://www.softwarefreedomday.org/>